ABSTRACT

The objectives of the study were as follows:

- Improve the capacity of primary health care level facilities serving three Nairobi slums to offer services for chronic diseases which are in line with the level of expertise available at these facilities.
- Improve the skills of health providers in the management of diabetes and other comorbidities with emphasis on the use of integrated guidelines and patient empowerment.
- Strengthen the linkages between the public and private sectors in health by harnessing resources from both sectors and complimenting each other's strengths in providing care for diabetes and its co-morbidities.
- Enhance community capacity to respond to diabetes through creation of patient and family support groups.
- Generate evidence to support the allocation of resources (especially drugs) to primary level health facilities for the management of chronic diseases while providing hands-on training opportunities for undergraduate medical, nursing and clinical students in diabetes care that emphasizes use of integrated guidelines and patient empowerment.

These objectives were to be achieved by the following activities:

- Setting up and running outreach clinics for patients with DM & HPT in three slums (Korogocho, Viwandani, Dandora).
- Building capacity of health workers in 15 HF to screen, diagnose and manage DM & HPT. This was to involve training of health workers and provision of equipment.
- Generating evidence of the impact on the quality of life and lifestyles of clinic attendees.
- Community sensitization via free medical camps, distribution of IEC materials and media programs.

Results:

- 17 health facilities (11 public and 5 private) were equipped with basic but essential diagnostic equipment for diabetes and hypertension.
- 27 clinical officers trained; 54 nursing staff trained and 36 community health workers and paramedics trained.
- Partnership established which brought together; DMI, NWB, Provide International and CAFKID (private) and CCN, Mbagathi district hospital (public).
- Patients support groups formed and 30 members trained as expert patients and as trainers of trainers on self-monitoring and management of diabetes and hypertension.

· 11 medical camps in total conducted (5 in Korogocho; 5 in Viwandani and 1 in Dandora).

1 dissemination with policy makers held plus numerous media coverage in both print and electronic media.
